EXCLUSIVE FILM PREMIERES: The first look at groundbreaking cinema, before the general public.

Advance Screening of “Smoking Tigers” – August 13 at Tribeca Film Center

Set in Los Angeles in the early 2000s, “Smoking Tigers” is a portrait of a lonely Korean-American teen named Hayoung who is taken under the wings of three wealthy students she meets at an elite academic bootcamp. As she falls deeper into their world, Hayoung works harder to hide her insecurities about her problematic family and lower-income background, only to discover the bittersweet pains of adulthood that will forever shape her life. So Young Shelly Yo makes her feature directorial debut with this film, after winning Tribeca and AT&T’s Untold Stories program in 2022. “Smoking Tigers” was awarded Best Screenplay, Best Performance and a special jury mention for the Nora Ephron Prize at the 2023 Tribeca Festival. Directed and written by So Young Shelly Yo. Produced by Guo Guo. Starring Ji-Young Yoo, Joon Ho Jung, Abin Andrews, Erin Choi, Erin Yoo and Phineas Yoon.

After the movie: Q&A with writer/director So Young Shelly Yo and Director of Artist Programs at Tribeca Studios Bryce Norbitz.

New York Premiere of “Ol’ Dirty Bastard: A Tale of Two Dirtys” – August 14 at LOOK Dine-In Cinemas W57th in Manhattan

“Ol’ Dirty Bastard: A Tale of Two Dirtys” is the first official documentary about the iconic Grammy®-nominated musician and legendary founding member of the hip-hop group Wu-Tang Clan. With never-before-seen personal archive shot by his wife, Icelene, this culture-defining special humanizes ODB as a man, a father, and a husband like never before. This definitive documentary provides an intimate picture of ODB’s life and reflects on the lasting impact he had on music and culture. Directed by Sam Pollard and Jason Pollard. Featuring interviews with Mariah Carey, Wu-Tang Clan members Raekwon and Ghostface Killah, ODB’s wife Icelene Jones, his son Bar-Sun Jones and more. An A&E release.

After the movie: A conversation with Icelene Jones, Bar-Sun Jones (aka YDB), Sam Pollard and Jason Pollard, moderated by Vanessa Satten, Editor-in-Chief of XXL.

Special Screening of “Strange Darling” – August 15 at LOOK Dine-In Cinemas W57th in Manhattan

In “Strange Darling”, nothing is what it seems when a twisted one-night stand spirals into a serial killer’s vicious murder spree. Directed and written by JT Mollner with Giovanni Ribisi as Director of Photography. Starring Willa Fitzgerald, Kyle Gallner, Ed Begley Jr. and Barbara Hershey. Produced by Bill Block, Roy Lee, Steven Schneider, Giovanni Ribisi, Chris Ivan Cevic. A Magenta Light Studios release.

After the movie: A conversation with JT Mollner, Giovanni Ribisi and Willa Fitzgerald, moderated by Matthew Modine.

TV & AUDIO PREMIERES: A curated presentation of unforgettable TV and podcast series.

World Premiere of Season Four of “My Brilliant Friend” – August 20 at MOMA

Based on the bestselling novels by Elena Ferrante, “My Brilliant Friend” follows Elena Greco and the most important friend in her life, Raffaella “Lila” Cerullo. After meeting as children in 1950 Naples, their story goes on to cover more than 60 years, exploring the mystery of Lila – Elena’s brilliant best friend and, in a way, her worst enemy. The fourth installment of the saga, titled “Story of the Lost Child,” delves into the adult lives of Elena and Lila. They find themselves entangled in the turmoil of Italy in the late 80s, nearing the end of decades of political violence and social unrest. Amid motherhood and career demands, amid betrayals, threats, disappearances, and natural disasters, Elena and Lila once again reside in the same neighborhood. Created by Saverio Costanzo. Story and screenplays by Elena Ferrante, Francesco Piccolo, Laura Paolucci and Saverio Costanzo. Directed by Laura Bisपुरi and executive produced by Saverio Costanzo, Paolo Sorrentino, Jennifer Schuur, Elena Recchia and Guido De Laurentiis. Produced by Lorenzo Mieli for Fremantle Italy. An HBO-RAI series.

After the screening: Q&A with Showrunner Saverio Costanzo, Director Laura Bisपुरi and cast members Alba Rohrwacher and Irene Maiorino.

World Premiere of Paramount’s “The Godfather: A Film We Can’t Refuse” – August 22 at Tribeca Film Center

Step into the shadow of the Corleone family as Paramount Pictures unveils the enduring saga of The Godfather as never experienced before in this captivating original podcast series. With exclusive insights from the legendary cast, including Al Pacino, Robert Duvall, Robert De Niro and Talia Shire, and commentary from a diverse array of film experts and ardent aficionados, we dissect the film’s magnetic allure and its pervasive influence across our culture. Journey alongside Rebecca Keegan, the acclaimed senior film editor at The Hollywood Reporter, as she explores the heart of this cinematic masterpiece through a new lens. From the complexities of family to the nuances of gender dynamics, from the echoes in pop culture to the culinary connections it inspires, The Godfather is more than a movie—it’s a cultural phenomenon that continues to enthrall and intrigue us. Together, we’ll ultimately seek answers to the enigma: Why does The Godfather hold such an indelible place in our lives? Why, after half a century, do we remain spellbound by the Corleone family’s tale of power, loyalty, and betrayal? An original podcast series by Paramount Pictures for Audible.

At the premiere: A conversation with host and Senior Film Editor at The Hollywood Reporter Rebecca Keegan, moderated by Davy Gardner, Head of Tribeca Audio and Curator of Audio Storytelling.

LIVE MUSIC EVENTS: Experience a night of live music that will resonate with you long after the final note.

“Beyond the Booth” Panel Discussion – August 7 at NeueHouse Madison Square

DJing has come a long way from its origins in 1935 when Walter Winchell coined the term disc jockey. Today’s DJs play a variety of genres and the art form has grown in both popularity and complexity. This panel discussion will take you “Beyond the Booth” to hear from some amazing DJs who work in NYC and around the globe. In partnership with NeueHouse, the panel features
